INTRODUCTORY.

11

IN presenting to the citizens of New Albany and Jeffersonville the thirteenth volume of Caron's City Directory, it is with pleasure that we point to the returning prosperity and the general cheerfulness of the citizens of the two beautiful cities situated just north of the Falls of the Ohio.

In New Albany there is a marked improvement. Over two years ago when we last published the directory, several of the old establishments which closed down during the hard times have resumed operations, while many of the larger factories which were running on half time are now operated to their full capacity. A number of small factories employing from ten to twenty hands have sprung up, and are doing well.

John and Basil Doerhoefer, of Louisville, have recently purchased over one hundred thousand dollars worth of property on Pearl street, between Main and Spring, they are now building six or seven fine stores at Pearl and Main streets which, with other improvements by them, will make an additional outlay of about fifty thousand dollars.

In Jeffersonville the change has been equally as great, the American Car and Foundry Co. and Howard's Ship Yards, two of the largest establishments in the city, are working to their full capacity, as are the large number of small factories scattered throughout the city.

The city itself has been very much improved by a number of large, new buildings and stores. The building of Spring street from the river to Court avenue with vitrified brick and the sidewalks of the same street with granitoid, has added wonderfully to the appearance of that portion of the city.

In 1897 the number of names in the New Albany department were 10,168; the present directory contains 11,484 names, showing an increase of 1,316 names, and an increase in population of 3,290 over 1897. The present population of New Albany, according to the directory, is 28,710.

In 1897 the number of names in the Jeffersonville department were 5,821, the present directory contains 7,048 names, showing an increase of 1,227 names, and an increase in population of 3,068 over 1897. The present population of Jeffersonville, according to the directory, is 17,620.

THE Mutual Life Ins. Co., OF NEW YORK.

Richard A. McCurdy, President.

"The Best Company to Insure In."

It is most "economically managed" and "issues the simplest forms of contract in which is clearly and concisely stated just what the Company will do."

Every policy contains "a schedule in figures" showing the guaranteed values of the policy at any time after three years' premiums have been paid, in Cash or Loan, and in "Paid-up" or "Extended" insurance.

Its contracts are eagerly accepted everywhere.

It affords absolute and permanent protection.

It grows stronger with age and experience.

It guarantees and pays a specified sum.

It charges a regular premium, which never increases and may decrease.

In case of failure to pay premiums after three years, equitable values in paid-up policies are provided so that absolute forfeitures cannot occur.

Its interest from invested funds has more than paid all its death claims.

SINCE ITS ORGANIZATION IN 1843.

Has paid to its members while living - $283,157,627.64
Paid to beneficiaries of deceased members 204,591,282.42

$487,748,910.06
Has secured the security of its present members 277,517,325.36

Has invested for its members $765,266,235.42
